

O-U-SPYU TABLETS

a comedy sketch idea by Jonathan D Steinhoff, 6.28.13©

A comedy sketch in the form of an absurd TV commercial for an absurd pharmaceutical. One eventually sees that an underlying aim of the TV spot is to convince you there is no reason to worry that there isn't enough gun control.

No, what you need are O-U-SPYU Tablets. O-U-SPYU Tablets instantly provide you with the intense mental and physical acuity needed to maneuver your way out of any bullets-flying situation! Bullets can't touch you!

Let's take a look at what happens to your brain just three seconds after you swallow an O-U-SPYU tablet:

See that purple swirling in the inner cerebral cortex? That's O-U-SPYU, telling your brain – instantly - just what it needs to know about the complex spatial relationships of everything in the room in front of your eyes, and the time it takes for you to weave between these objects and exit the room to elude the shooter, that is, the amount of time it will take you – once O-U-SPYU also goes into affect on your leg, hip, and other muscles, which occurs four seconds after ingesting the tablet. Ha-ha! Those bullets flying from the mass killer's gun don't stand a chance!

You'll feel just like James Bond – you'll wonder why anyone would want more – ha-ha-ha – gun laws – when all you really need is – O-U-SPYU!

Disclaimer:

O-U-SPYU not responsible if user should get shot and/or killed in mass shootings; possibly harmful negative side effects may include trying to disable psycho-killers with your car keys; appearing highly anti-social while exiting parties; a listing of additional possibly harmful negative side effects available upon request from manufacturer, LifeOrDeathian, Ltd.; product not to be confused with SAFGENSBULLITS Tablets, and/or associated wrongful death lawsuits related to this earlier version of this LifeOrDeathian product.

CLEM MILLBURN, KENTUCKY APPALACHIAN FARMER

Let me tell you about my friend, Zeke. Every time Zeke gets drunk he thinks I stole his favorite cow, her name's Sally. So Zeke starts shooting his shotgun at me. I say, "Zeke, stop shootin! That ain't Sally, that's Mary Lou, go look at the white patch behind her ear!" Zeke don't care, he keeps shootin', 'cause he's drunk. "You stole my cow Sally!" So that's when I take out a O-U-SPYU Tablet, swallow it down, okay. So you never seen me figure out how to get away on outta that barn so fast! O-U-SPYU, you dun help make my life work out!

(Next, a testimonial from a proper English gentleman, describing the time he was discovered in the bed chamber of his maid by his highly irate wife who was also able to make herself in ready possession of a firearm.)

We ALL have our life and death, bullets-flying situations from time to time. But why get killed over it? O-U-SPYU – you'll be safe as can be.
